October Poem – Christine Lacey

Gold brown leaves fall in October
And when I look up I can see
The magical beauty of my
Fine old oak tree.

Changing the clocks in October
I look around and I can see
The cosy warm fire with Scones and jam for tea.

THE ANNUAL WILLINGHAM HORTICULTURAL AND CRAFT SHOW

5 September

Thank you to everyone who helped as well as school staff, entrants, visitors and local businesses who donated raffle prizes.

There would be no show without you!

The annual show was organized and run by the Gardening Club as usual with the assistance of the Willingham Action Group and the Women's Institute. Derek Law, our official photographer, was with us all day to capture the preparation and presentation of the show. Roger Denson was our auctioneer and Peter Cornish provided transport for our props.

There were fewer entries this year, particularly in the junior classes, but nevertheless there were plenty of exhibits for the judges to ponder over and give their verdict. The standard of exhibits overall was very good. It is encouraging that, while such village shows may be in decline, your local show manages to engage the enthusiasm of sufficient people to make it worthwhile to stage year on year and support our chosen local cancer research charity; long may it remain so.

Many of the excellent flower and vegetable exhibits were auctioned at the end of the proceedings together with the cakes, jams and other delicious-looking bakes.

The show is open to everyone and all age groups so we hope that in 2016 there will be more entrants including those who entered this year. Well done and thank you to all who participated. The trophy winners were as follows:

Have you seen the Venus Fly Traps?

No, it's not a warning from the Gardening Club! The Venus Fly Traps was the name of the Willingham Rangers' camp when they took part in CamJam 2015. CamJam is an international Scout Jamboree that is held on Huntingdon Race Course every four years. This year's theme was 'Out of this World' and, as the Rangers were on Venus sub-camp, they decided to be the Venus Fly Traps (or maybe the Venus Scout Traps!). We had a splendid gateway adorned with Venus Fly Traps made by the girls which was covered at the slightest sign of rain to prevent the cardboard becoming soggy. It was all worth it as they were awarded second prize for the gateway. First prize went to a revolving ball that lit up at night.

There were over 2,400 people at CamJam this year and the young people had great fun doing the many activities on offer. The week-long camp started with 'It's a Knockout Tournament' followed by a trip to Hunstanton. For the rest of the week the activities were divided into zones with activities ranging from sailing and bell boating (if you don't know what that is ask one of the Rangers) to circus skills including twirling balls of fire, laser clay pigeon shooting and go-karts. One zone was craft where some of the more unusual crafts included wood turning, rope making, clock making, glass engraving, enamelling and, being a Scout camp, woggle making. As well as making crafts there was plenty of time to make new friends. Every evening there was live entertainment, discos, films shows and the chance to hang out with new friends at the Explorer Zone or on the sub camp.

The Leaders didn't miss out either. There were evenings when they could try out some of the activities or join other leaders for a pub quiz or catch up with old and new friends.

Everyone was sad when the last day came, but e-mail addresses were exchanged and plans are already being discussed as to which jamboree they will be meeting up at next year.

PASTORAL LETTER

LISTEN TO ME!

After the event of the original sin still in our memory came the commandment of God to subdue the earth. In this 'submission' we not only own the land, but also try to own each other. We forget that power and responsibility is service. It is also a reference to the environment around me, not for me to rule it, but also my submission towards responsibility for the world surrounding me. That someone is a slave and another is free, some are Greeks, others Jews, some are rich and others poor; these terms do not come from God. These descriptions are ours – according to the law, according to justice, according to the criteria of the human race. But in front of God we are all equal, because He loves us with the same Love.

Pillar of the law

The one who applies the law is not a doer of the law but its user for his or her own purposes. It serves, for example, to figure out his own place, or a neighbour's in order to let him know where he stands – because it is fair, because it is OK. Some even feel anointed by the law – sometimes even those anointed by God's law as priests and religious leaders who – thanks to this law – set up around themselves the people and things to organise the order. And yet, the order establishes only the Love, not any law. It is so amazing that the words 'love' and 'law' sound and look similar – nearly... The law only indicates to the man, where and how many times he has made a mistake, sinned, swerved, etc. No such logic is guided by God.

Listen to me!

In every one of us dwells someone who wants to say constantly 'listen to me!' regardless of their position. It is unnecessary and makes many of us depressed and have low self-esteem. That is why Jesus constantly, at every opportunity, recalls: 'The Word of God was spoken – and in Himself fulfilled – Listen to Him!' The Word of God is the love that does not need the rules of any law. Love is the handmaid of all in order to mirror the pattern of Jesus who never lets even one word of the Father fall onto the ground. Even in the most difficult hour on the cross, the One who alone is the Incarnate Word of the Father, listened to the Father who said: 'Son! Say "Amen"! The Amen to Your passion, Your Cross, Your death...'

Once Jesus was praised by an unknown woman in the crowd who said that the womb and the breasts of His mother were blessed; it did not distract Him from the main purpose of teaching about the Kingdom of God – that is obedience to the Word of God. What does the word say to me today? The same as always: Say 'Amen' to what happens to you!

If there had been any attempt to comment on this recommendation, it would have proved the attempt to create another law – in order to control the will of God in relation to me: in practical terms that would be 'Yes-but' built on a sentence. This is a real withdrawal towards the mentality of the sinful and weak man, and not a free man in love who chooses God as the Expert of all.

Engage in the Afternoon

Come and join in with these special sessions for adults on the first Wednesday of each month from 2 to 3 30 pm. There are speakers, tea/coffee/biscuits and a chance to change books.

In September we enjoyed Margaret Cliff talking about the History of Country Markets with an opportunity to buy some of her wares – it was a really good session.

Why not support the library by coming to the next one as a taster – they're free and friendly!

Forthcoming talks:

- Wednesday 7 October – Tea and Tablets with Victoria Richardson – Making the Most of Library Services with Portable Devices.
- Wednesday 4 November – The Ouse Washes Landscape Partnership with Mark Nokkert.
- Wednesday 2 December – Royal National Institute for the Blind in the Community with Hayley Neal.

The talks are free but donations are welcomed towards refreshments.

Friends of Willingham Library

3-11 October: Book Trail. A fun event to coincide with the Feast celebrations. In various business premises around the village you will find a picture of a book cover. The title will have a connection with one of the other participating businesses. All you have to do is match the book title with the correct premises. Entry forms will be available from the Library from 3 October (for opening times, see above). They can be returned to the Library on or before Sunday 11 October, and on that afternoon the Library will be open from 3 – 4 pm for answers and refreshments.

Wednesday 14 October, 7 30 pm: Poetry and Prose Evening

Everybody is welcome to join this informal event at which you bring along (if you wish) a short passage from a book or a poem to read out. Any style is welcome: serious or frivolous, ancient or modern. The evening is led by Chris Lacey, and the theme will be The Seven Deadly Sins (for those of you who suffer from sloth, the other six are wrath, greed, pride, lust, envy and gluttony). Refreshments will be provided.

Old Willingham

Last month we showed the Willingham water tower. This prompted the following letter from Malcolm Sargeant.

'The tower was there when we bought a 'Tower Cottage' in 1967. It belonged to the Cambridge Water Company and was sited on a quarter acre of land which made up part of our rear garden for which we paid an annual rent of 3s 9d (value about £5 today).

It was a well-made structure with walls in excess of 2 feet thick at the base. Inside the tower were concrete mounts on which the pump once stood. The water was pumped to the tower from Black Pit Well. There were two concrete floors each accessible by steel wall-mounted ladders. On the top floor was a door which had a small balcony and, with the door open, you could see over to Rampton. On the inside of the door and the surrounding walls were scribbings including the names of locals who had served in the Willingham Home Guard. Presumably, the tower was used as a look-out post.

We think the tower was demolished between 1970-72 and was taken down by a farmer from Bluntisham who built a bungalow with the bricks. He was there every morning, very early, no matter what the weather and removed the bricks using hand tools and bottle jacks.

However, removing the tank was a real problem but with the aid of a wire rope around the tank and attached to a tractor, it was toppled. The cast iron tank was about 3/8 of an inch thick (10 mm) and on impact with the ground, shattered far and wide. It was thankfully all cleared up.

When we moved from the cottage, the only sign of the tower was its concrete base.'

This month's picture shows the moment before the tank fell to the ground.

See more photos at www.oldwillingham.com. If you have stories or memories about this picture, please contact Jon Edney, 31 High Street or oldwill@oldwillingham.com.

New Vaccinations – Meningitis B was added to the routine baby immunisation schedule from 1 September. Babies born on or after 1 July 2015 will receive the new vaccination at 2 months, 4 months and 12/13 months old. Meningitis B is the most common cause of bacterial meningitis in children. Meningitis C has become a rare disease since the start of routine immunisation against it in 1999. Babies born between 1 May and 30 June 2015 will be offered a catch-up vaccination when they attend for their second and third immunisation visit.

There has also been an increase in the incidence of Meningitis W and Public Health England has instigated a vaccination programme to protect adolescents. The current vaccination given in school against Meningitis C will now be replaced by the Meningitis ACWY. Those who left school this year (born between 1 September 1996 and 31 August 1997), can receive this vaccination in surgery. It is strongly recommended that those in the above age group make an appointment to receive this vaccination.

Flu Season approaches yet again – The usual Flu Clinic will be in place and advertised in the surgery. Please remember to book your appointment. The Flu vaccination is recommended and is free under the NHS to all those aged 65 years and over, pregnant women, and to those of any age with a long-term medical condition, for example diabetes, heart disease, kidney or liver disease, asthma or any breathing disorder. Please enquire if you are unsure whether you qualify. Carers (in receipt of Carers' Allowance) are also eligible.

Private flu vaccinations are available at a cost of £10 for anyone not eligible for free NHS flu vaccination. Please ask in pharmacy.

Flu vaccines for children The campaign to reduce flu in the community by vaccinating healthy children continues this winter. Children born between 1 September 2010 and 31 August 2013 inclusive can receive a flu vaccination, given in the form of a nasal spray (not an injection). These should be available in early October. Please contact the surgery to make an appointment.

The Shingles Vaccination Rolling Programme is also continuing this autumn. There are strict eligibility criteria and the vaccines are available free this year only to the following groups –

Letters to the Editors

Dear Editors

We'd like to say a big thank-you to all who have helped Dom and Will raise the funds they need to support the work they will be doing in Mozambique and Kosovo over the next year. In particular, we'd like to mention the very generous folk of Willingham Baptist and our great friends that helped put together the Masked Ball (hopefully appreciated by all who came!!)

At the time of writing (7 September), the boys are about to head off to Birmingham for a month of training and team building before they fly out on 9 October for 6 months working with young people and children in disadvantaged communities in the two countries. An eye-opening experience for them both with lots of personal challenges, but we know they will gain much from being part of different cultures and ways of life; hopefully too they will help enhance the lives of those living there.

We look forward to hearing their stories when they return! Thank you.

The Jackman & Sanders Families.

Dear Editors

Where are Willingham Mothers and Fathers?

I recently came across a Swavesey Village Magazine. Inside were photographs of TEN football teams of boys 6-17 years old and names of helpers. Also FOUR teams of girls 8-10, 12-14 and their helpers. THEIR motto: teamwork, respect, enjoyment, excellence. Some challenge Willingham! Sadly my children said I was passed my 'sell-buy date' – 50 years ago!

So many opportunities for Sport and Activities.

Peter Jenners

Dear Editors

I would like to say thank you to the kind lady who found my cat, Lola, knocked down by a car and killed on 8 September. She rang the vet at Longstanton and being micro-chipped, they identified me. Lola was much loved but I am glad that this lady cared.

Christine Lacey

Dear Editors

TO THE VENERABLE MEMBERS OF WILLINGHAM PARISH COUNCIL

I would like to bring to your attention the following subject and hope you will do something ASAP.

My mother has started to use a mobility scooter while waiting for a hip replacement operation. However, she has noticed the shortage of dropped kerbs, and in some cases, uneven pavements which cause the scooter to tip alarmingly over to one side. This is un-nerving and causes pain in the affected limb.

I would, therefore, like to request that the Parish Council each borrows a mobility scooter and do a trundled survey of the village then take steps to correct pavements and kerbs where necessary.

Kathryn Critchley-Fowler

Editors' Note – Owing to space and content, this has been extensively edited.

Dear Editors

A Visit to Vastra Hamnen – An outstanding example of a redeveloped industrial area in southern Sweden

In August, I visited Vastra Hamnen (Western Harbour in English). This is a former, heavy industrial area north of Malmö. It was originally landfill, dockyard and car factory. At its peak over 6,000 people worked there.

When the industries closed, the site became the European Housing Expo, called Bo01, attracting a lot of international publicity. It now has the largest concentration of low-energy housing in Sweden. The majority of flats have waste grinders, installed initially to produce compost, but now to produce biogas – all Malmö's bus services are gas powered.

A pioneering car-sharing scheme was set up, reducing car journeys. Convenient multi-storey parking garages reduce car street parking. Most homes are zero carbon, because of photovoltaic cells, solar panels, wind turbines and state of the art internal ventilation systems as well as having IT systems that monitor and control their energy usage.

Very low energy bills mean fuel poverty is eliminated, reducing rent arrears and evictions! The whole development is driven to be economically, environmentally and socially sustainable. Buses run every 2 minutes into central Malmö. Cycling and walking are the main means of getting around Western Harbour.

The maxim here is reuse, re-purpose or recycle achieved by a refuse disposal system using a series of pipes that suck the refuse away to a peripheral site for sorting and treatment. More people work there now than in the 1960s.

Further details and photographs of Vastra Hamnen can be found on the Northstowe Community Facebook page – www.facebook.com/NorthstoweCommunity

Parking at the School

The issue of unsafe parking at the school was raised again at a police meeting on road safety matters. The police response was not helpful as because of the recent cuts they simply do not have the resources to deal with the problem – unless there is a serious accident which, the Parish Council believe, is too late. One option was we pay the overtime costs for a PCSO to patrol. As there seems little else we can do, the Parish Council is minded to do that but with current tight budget restraints if it goes ahead, it would do so on a very limited basis.

Speed Limit Extension

The debate on the extension of the thirty-mile an hour limit on Station Road continues. The Parish Council would like it to go as far as the village boundary, in line with the other boundaries to the north, east and west. County Highways wants it to go just past the double bend and the police are reluctant to agree to speed limits that motorists are likely to ignore. Perhaps the Parish Council is losing the plot; it rather assumed that the police should enforce speed limits and not drivers.

Energy Switch

For the fifth time, the Cambridgeshire Energy Switch this autumn gives you the chance to save money on your energy bills. It uses the collective bargaining power of residents to bid for better gas and electricity prices. Unlike 'comparison websites', it is totally independent with no vested interests. It is open to all Cambridgeshire residents, including those on either credit or pre-payment meters. Registration will be open until midnight on Monday, 12 October. Registration is free and without obligation. Following registration, energy suppliers will be given the opportunity to compete for business and provide their best tariffs for electricity and/or gas, for the collective group of residents registered with the Scheme.

To register, residents will need to know their current energy supplier, their current tariff found on their bill and their household's annual gas and/or electricity usage. Registering does not commit households to switching supplier; residents can choose not to switch once they have received their offer. Those who have previously registered, may renew their registration and participate if their contract is now complete.

Visit www.cambridgeshire.gov.uk/switch for more details or contact 01223 703874.

Free Electronic Newspapers, Books and Magazines

A host of daily newspapers, weekly magazines and books, including audio books are available free to download to your PC, phone or tablet. All you need to access these fantastic services is a free library card. To get yours or to start reading, visit www.cambridgeshire.gov.uk/library or call in at the library.

Non-Emergency Patient Transport Services (NEPTS) Consultation

Cambridgeshire and Peterborough Clinical Commissioning

Group (CCG) has launched a 12-week public consultation on the future model for Non-Emergency Patient Transport Services (NEPTS) for our area. The consultation runs until 19 November. There is a public meeting at the Central Library in Lion Yard between 2 – 3 pm on Wednesday, 7 October or there is an online survey form at www.surveymonkey.com/r/NEPTS [1].

Office Opening

We are sorry to report that we have had to reduce the staffing level in the Parish Office. This means the office is not open on Fridays and will be closed more frequently for annual holidays. Hopefully, this will not cause too much inconvenience but we will review the matter in the new financial year.
